PRIMARY / SECONDARY CONSTRUCTION

Our construction season has ramped up, and we are continually planning and scheduling construction work for primary (new) gas services and secondary services, as well as alterations to existing primary services.

If you are considering any of these construction projects, please contact our office. Requests for construction work prior to our busiest season ensure we can accommodate your schedule and timing.

Our deadline for construction requests is mid-September.

NATURAL GAS APPLIANCE SAFETY

Well maintained natural gas appliances are less likely to break down and less likely to create dangerous carbon monoxide levels inside your home. Have your appliances inspected annually by a registered heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) contractor to maintain peak efficiency and ensure they are operating safely. (Please note that Cochrane Lake Gas Co-op does not perform these services.)

General Appliance Safety:

Ensure your fuel burning appliances such as furnaces, boilers, water heaters and fireplaces have adequate ventilation.

- Keep the area around your appliance clear. Keep any items at least 24" away from your natural gas appliances.
- Burner flames that are yellow rather than blue could mean a build up of carbon monoxide. Shut off your appliance and call your heating contractor. Never use your stove or oven to heat a room.

If you're buying a new or used natural gas appliance, keep in mind they must meet the certification standards of the Canadian Standards Association (CSA). Look for the CSA logo on an appliance's rating plate or in its instruction manual.

LAUGHING GAS

Scientists have discovered another deadly pathogen they are calling the “Peekaboo” virus. Doctor’s are sending anyone with Peekaboo straight to ICU.

I’ve recently started a dating app for chickens. It’s not my normal day job – it’s just to make hens meet.

At the interview, they asked me, “Where do you see yourself in five years?” I told him, “I think we’ll still be using mirrors in five years.”

A pun is not completely matured until it is a full groan.
